We work with leading healthcare organizations to deliver insights, applications and solutions that support wellbeing, empathy, and connect clinicians, patients and families. Our dedicated team provides a comprehensive portfolio of healthcare applications, furnishings, products and services designed to support more connected care.

The most exciting developments in the design of healthcare spaces today are fundamentally changing the user experience. Senior living, waiting areas, treatment rooms, and other spaces that were once sterile or unequipped are being transformed into places that nurture residents and patients, embrace families, and support caregivers. Treatment outcomes, patient satisfaction and staff efficiency are all improving through innovative thinking about how these spaces should function and feel.
